

PROBATE or the ADMINISTRATION OF ESTATES

The term “Probate” is often used to describe the process of dealing with (or administering) the assets (or Estate) of someone who has died.

Depending on the size of the estate and the assets involved you may need to obtain a Grant of Probate which is the name of the formal document issued by the Probate Registry, after someone has died leaving a Will, to show that the Will is valid.

Administering an estate can be time consuming and at times complicated! Thursfields can help guide you through the process by assisting you with all of the administration or such parts of the administration as we agree with you.

At Thursfields we are here to help at what can be a very difficult and emotional time for all involved. We aim to offer a flexible and efficient service whereby we can:-

- apply for the Grant only, or
- deal with the full administration of the estate on behalf of the Executors, and/or
- If you wish to vary your entitlement under a Will (perhaps for tax planning purposes) we can provide advice on Deeds of Variation (see separate leaflet)
